The invention also relates to an image forming method and an image forming apparatus. Description of the Related Art According to a conventional image forming process, an electrostatic image is formed on an image bearing member by an electrophotographic process and the electrostatic image is developed to a visible image by a toner. In recent years, an image forming apparatus using a high-resolution latent image bearing member, such as a low-power laser scanner and a digital copying machine is in widespread use. This requires, more than ever, the demand for an image forming apparatus that gives a high image quality at high speed. To meet the requirement for a toner that gives a high image quality at high speed, a ton
